Mr. Langhofer,

The distribution of leaflets, brochures, or other written material is considered "non-commercial solicitation" under NC State's Solicitation regulation. Therefore, in this instance, if a student desires to hand out such material he or she should obtain a permit from the university's Student Involvement Office. As indicated in our previous response, this permitting process is subject to reasonable time, place, or manner limits, without consideration of the content or viewpoint of the solicitation. This process has been upheld as reasonable in light of the limited public forum established in this instance (see ACLU v. Mote, 423 F.3d 438(4th Cir. 2005)). NC State remains willing to work with GCL in order to educate them about the solicitation regulation and help them through the permitting process.

Thanks,

Mr. Troxler,

This e-mail is to follow up on your letter dated December 8, 2015. I want to make sure that I understand how NC State is interpreting and enforcing REG 07.25.12 so that I can accurately advise my client. According to NC State's interpretation and enforcement of REG 07.25.12, does NC State require a student to obtain a permit from the Student Involvement Office any time a student desires to hand out a written solicitation to another student or students?

Thanks in advance for your response.
